Russell-Lehan Feud Goes to Legislature

CAMPBELL, GILFILLAN, SHERMAN, AND OTHERS 'POT ON SPOT', 2 SHOTS

RUSSELL IN FIVE INJURED

Cambridge Mayor Files a Bill
Asking for Power to Name
Temporary Treasurer

The longstanding feud between Mayor Richard M. Russell, of Cambridge, and Henry P. Lehan, city treasurer and collector of taxes and other administration forces took a new turn today when Mayor Russell filed a bill with the House of Representatives which will permit him to appoint his own city officials to temporary office without approval by the city council.

Mayor Russell has made six attempts to have Lehan ousted from his office as city treasurer, but on every occasion. This latest move by Russell has Cambridge City Hall in an uproar.

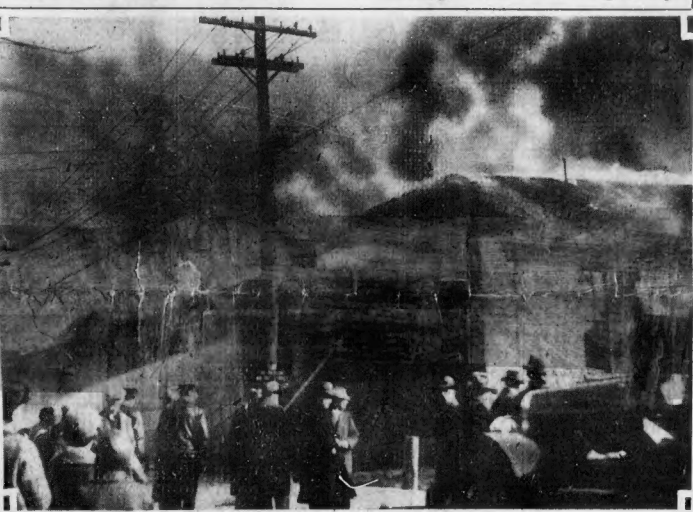

WHAT MAYOR SAYS.
In response to the filing of the bill, Mayor Russell said he believed for some time past that the burden of the choice of a former mayor.

"I am of the opinion," Mayor Russell said, "that the chief executive of a city is entitled to the privilege of having department heads who are willing to cooperate with him in the proper administration of city affairs. This cooperation has not been forthcoming from the office of the city treasurer."

"It is intolerable to be held responsible to the people of the city for the finances of the city when the mayor has no control over the important office of city treasurer," he said.

"All I am asking for is temporary control of the city treasurer."

Flames Held Last Dance at 'Swig's Hall' in Quincy

MUSIC WAS MISSING, but flames danced at a merry clip today to destroy 'Swig's hall room,' now a rollover, on Wollaston blvd., Quincy. This graphic picture, showing flames and huge clouds of smoke billowing from the structure, was snapped by Mrs. Bertha H. Peterson of 74 Hamden circle, Wollaston. A constant reader of the Evening American, she rushed her negatives into Boston for entry in the News and Picture Play Contest conducted each week by the American.

BYSTANDER ALSO HIT BY STRAY BULLET

Man Recently Acquitted of the Lerner Murder is Felled in North End Barber Shop

Angelo Martorelli, a barber, was shot in the head by one of the stray bullets. His wound was a fatal one.

Carmelo Guffere, North End gangster, was shot on the spot in a Hanover st. barbershop late today.

Guffere, who is also known as "Goody" Campbell, was acquitted for the murder of George "Nate" Lerner at Revere in December.

At that time it was predicted Guffere would get his "from rival gangster."

Guffere was in the Modern barber shop at 341 Hanover st. when a bullet went through the window and into Guffere's stomach.

A small girl, who told police that she had seen Campbell come out of the shop, was being questioned by police. Her identity was carefully guarded.

Dr. Alfred Amendola, who was passing the barber shop, rushed into the room and then called the Haymarket Relief Station for help.

The stricken gangster was taken to Haymarket Relief Hospital where he was immediately placed on the operating table for an emergency operation.

Doctors at the hospital expressed no saving his life.

Guffere was in the street chair, just in the window, when a bullet drew up, and the rain of bullets tore through the barber shop window.

Ten holes in the glass and two in the wall were visible.

NEW QUAKES IN MEXICO; 65 DIE

Mexico City, Jan. 17 (AP)—An almost continual earthquake, accompanied by subterranean rumblings, renewed alarm in the valley of Oaxaca today. The valley was shaken again and again and new damage was done.

The total of deaths in the recent quake was placed at 65 today as belated reports arrived.

A hope that the worst of the earthquake had passed, was shattered today by the report that 30 persons had been killed and a large number injured in Wednesday night's tremors.

Dr. Juan Rueda, in charge of the meteorological station here, described continuing earthquakes and subterranean rumblings as "pounding as if many pieces of artillery of heavy caliber were doing continuous firing."

Hundreds Bid Cardinal 'Bon Voyage' on Cruise

Mayor Curley and his daughter, Mary, and Miss Loreta Bremer were among the large group of leading Catholic laymen and clergy of the archdiocese who gathered at Commonwealth Pier today to bid Cardinal William O'Connor bon voyage as he sailed on the Lady Sonoma for Nassau, Bahamas Islands.

CLARA IS SICK, BUT DEFIANT

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 17 (INS)—"I say he could bid 'I do' out!" That was the word and tone of voice today of Clara Bow, red-haired screen star as she took to her bed and began battling a severe cold as she could return to the screen next week in the spectacular battle of back yard romp that marked the grand finale of the film.

Miss Bow said to the interviewer that it was her cold, her coughing and the nervous spell that had held her low for two weeks.

"Isn't this a heck of a time for me to get yanked off a picture?" she asked through her muffled voice.

The fact is—and it looks bad enough for a girl—that if I could talk above a cough, and didn't have to chase over to court every day or so, I'd be here rehearsing this picture right now."

Miss Bow said she referred to "Clara Bow" the film, which starts "shooting" Monday, and which Miss Sylvia Sydney, New York stage actress, has been substituted for to play opposite Gary Cooper.

Meanwhile Miss Bow is reading "The Sign of the Cross."

New River

By M. L. RAMSAY
Washington, Jan. 17 (US)—A bold attempt of the power trust to steal many of the country's finest water powers, untried in the guise of unrestricted use of the power, is being blocked by the Senate, it was revealed today.

Senator Russell yesterday responded to a statement by the power trust, which was made by Charles A. Russell, president of the power trust, that the trust was the "most desirable" of all power trusts for the country.

Russell denied the statement. A report was refused to Russell by the power trust, which was made by Charles A. Russell, president of the power trust, that the trust was the "most desirable" of all power trusts for the country.

In the new license move, it was learned yesterday, the power trust is attempting to hold up the government and the state court to take over the plant. They would establish substantially the same rights as the power trust, which would also open the way to a new license move, it was learned yesterday, the power trust is attempting to hold up the government and the state court to take over the plant.

MELTON HASN'T DECIDED, SAYS WHITE HOUSE

Report That Dawes Will Quit
London Post for G. O. P.
Job Is Also Denied

Washington, Jan. 17 (INS)—Published reports that Ambassador W. Melton has resigned as Secretary of the Treasury, effective March 4, and that he is to be succeeded by Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, were unqualifiedly denied at the White House today.

Melton has not resigned, it was stated, and if he has any intention of doing so, he has not consulted the White House with it.

There is no truth in the rumor, he said. "The story is without any foundation whatsoever." The State Department also issued a denial that Ambassador Dawes was resigning.

The Washington Herald today published a story that Melton had submitted his resignation as Secretary of the Treasury, but announced that he would not be made until after Congress adjourns.

There is no truth in the rumor, he said. "The story is without any foundation whatsoever." The State Department also issued a denial that Ambassador Dawes was resigning.

Junior Dance Attracts Many

Mrs. Hugh Scott is General Chairman of Committee at Copley-Plaza

THE JUNIOR SUPPER dance at the Copley-Plaza last evening brought out a goodly number of the post-debutantes and the young smart set. Mrs. Hugh Scott arrived early to greet the guests as she was general chairman of the committee. Her black velvet gown of Victorian mode, long, with tiers of ruffles in train, was marvelously becoming. In the receiving line were Mrs. Henry Lyman and Miss Mary Flagg, Mrs. Hollis Hunnewell, Mrs. J. Gardner Bradley, Mrs. John Ames, Mrs. Arthur Devens, Mrs. J. Murray Forbes, Mrs. John Hunnewell, Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, Mrs. Roger Wolcott, Mrs. Richard C. Storey, Jr., Miss Edith Wolcott, Miss Agnes Boardman and Miss Betty Bartlett.

AMONG THE BEAUTIFUL gowns worn by the young ladies which were a novelty, as the evening dress this season have been solid colors for the most part. Miss Mary Flagg was in black and gold chiffon, Miss Mary Margaret Loring was in a lavender and green printed crepe, Mrs. Edward Stuart wore pastel gold lace, Mrs. Joseph D. Knapp wore a gown of white and gold, Miss Abby Beveridge was radiant in rose brocade. Among the lovelies was Betty Burgess, Miss Katharine Hedges in white tulle, Edith Wolcott was in white, Miss Hollis Hunnewell wore white satin and black, and Mrs. William W. C. Colt appeared in a sea of green of deep ivory satin, lovely with her raven hair.

PINK BIRDIE CRISPE was most becoming to Miss Isabelle Grandin and Annie Boyden, in white, looked as cool and lovely as last year. Mrs. John N. Newell came with a party in dusty rose crepe, most effective, and Miss Eleanor Gibson, and Mrs. Cora Lyman wore the fashionable black tulle. A member of the committee, Mrs. Henry Edgerton, was in brilliant white, and Mrs. John Lyman was in black gown, with white net bodice, was worn by Miss Helen Freeman and Miss Merion wore pinkish-lavender.

MRS. HAMILTON OSBORN, daughter of the British consul, was also and friendly. Mrs. Newell came with a party in dusty rose crepe, most effective, and Mrs. Cora Lyman wore the fashionable black tulle. A member of the committee, Mrs. Henry Edgerton, was in brilliant white, and Mrs. John Lyman was in black gown, with white net bodice, was worn by Miss Helen Freeman and Miss Merion wore pinkish-lavender.

White House Folk Hunt Bear

Hoover's Grandchildren Hall All Business, but No Bruin Is Found

Washington, Jan. 17 (U.S.)—All political activities in the White House abruptly halted yesterday when two polking children rushed into the President's office with whoops and yells, proclaiming the presence of a bear in the basement. They were Peggy Ann and Herbert Hoover III, affectionately known as "Pete" and "Bert," of the President, followed them from the White House proper to assure them that there was no bruin in that section of the mansion reserved for the President's office.

However, they would not be satisfied and literally ransacked the various offices. They had with them two of the President's dogs to attack the bear if and when found. Senators Fess and Wadsworth came out of the White House, having formed of the bear hunt, and stopped to play with the children. The President himself came out to discover what the disturbance was, and members of his Cabinet, having the White House, started an investigation, in the delight of the two youngsters.

All hands quit work until the children were satisfied there was no bear, and were ridden back to the White House, "risky back" by Horie and Walter Ferguson, secret service men.

Edward MacDowell Club to Hold First Concert on Jan. 21

The first concert of the season to be given by the MacDowell Club will be held in Jordan Hall, Jan. 21, at 8 o'clock. The concert will be led by Arthur Fiedler, conductor of the symphony orchestra. William Billings, coach of the Technology Glee Club, will lead the choruses.

The concert is for the benefit of purchasing the work and ideals of Edward MacDowell. Organized in 1908, the MacDowell Club of Boston was founded by a group of the composer's pupils and friends, and has since been stimulating interest in good music, as well as further the education of good music and the work and ideals of the man as a composer.

For the most part, the membership is composed of musicians. For many years, the club has had a membership of more than 600. Certain are the members, who have won the many smaller ensemble organizations, and the sole members of the club give the program.

Officers of the club today are: President, Arthur Fiedler; Vice-President, Mrs. Lewis A. Armstrong; Secretary, Mrs. Longdon Frothingham; Treasurer, Mrs. Edgar Pierce; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frank Piper; and Mrs. Scollie Davis, assistant.

FOUR LEAD DIVISION

In but any event, it appears that with these competent judges of the many art feel that Schmeling, fighting Sharkey and Primo, the top heavyweights division, turning them in 1-2-3 order becomes a matter of opinion. All the other big leather heavyweights below these—Ernie Schaaf, Ray Lewis, Jimmy Maloney, George Godfrey, Paulino Uscudis, Tuffy Griffith, Johnny Bates, and all the rest, as the Meares, McAdams and Dempsey are the main event.

New I hold that ratings of fighters by any fair minded reader must first take cognizance of the title holder, and the ratings begin to be fair. That is to say, of the contenders. The title for the purpose of ratings—and is inviolate, and only personal prejudices can ever be allowed to influence the decision.

In other words you must start with the title holder as your No. 1 man if you want to be fair. It might be my personal opinion that Jimmy McLarnin is the best fighter, but in rating the division I have to rate Freeman on top.

It is a matter of the contenders, and if I desire I can make McLarnin my No. 1 man—no contender.

CHAMP IS LEADER

These ratings put a non-champion ahead of a titleholder, especially when the non-champion is a titleholder have no quarrel, as a little beyond me. By what I mean reasoning do they have at all a conclusion?

If Mr. Dempsey as a rated has been pursuing logic, how could he jump Sharkey when the division is in the hands of the main event?

He would use the quality that rating by a statement that he is the best fighter in the division, in which case I could be bolstered by rating a non-champion to jump any contender over a recognized titleholder.

Having been a decisive test strikes as the logical event when offered in the hands of the main event.

QUEBEC FOR N BONSPIEL

By GEORGE GRIMM
As a result of preliminary matches in the annual Bonspiel for the Stockton and Clyde cups, emblematic of the curling championships of the United States and Canada, at the Country Club, Canada has only one team left in the quarter final for the Stockton trophy.

Only one team left in the quarter final for the Stockton trophy. The Quebec Curling Club, 110 years in existence, is the oldest on the continent.

Several interesting matches took place yesterday with the 14 to 15 victory of Canadian No. 1 over St. Andrews being the feature event.

N. Y. Garden Gets Break in Track Scrap

New York, Jan. 17 (U.S.)—The excellent diversion of pulling rabbits out of a hat was tried at the A. A. U. headquarters. It worked nicely—surprisingly so, in fact. The rabbits appear to be a couple of French runners booked for these above, namely, Sera Martin and Paul Keller.

A draw was held to determine the merits in which they are to run in the United States, and by an odd coincidence Martin, the more famous of the two, was drawn for all three meets in Madison Square Garden.

Each athlete will engage in four meets. Martin will race at distances between a quarter-mile and 1000 yards, his schedule calling for appearance at the Millrose A. A. games in the Garden, February 7; Meadowbrook Club games, Philadelphia, February 12; New York A. C. meet at the Garden, February 16; and National Championships at the Garden, February 16.

Keller, the French 300-meter champion, will run distances from the meters to the mile at Seton Hall College meet, Newark, February 14; Boston A. A. games, February 14; New Jersey Championships, Newark, February 15.

DAMN RUNYON

Says

New York, Jan. 17—Mr. Tom McAdams, the round matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, places Herr Max Schmeling, the Black Uhler of the Rhine, at the peak of the McAdams ratings in the heavyweight division, arguing correctly that the German was his championship in the ring, and can be dived at the title only in the ring.

Mr. William Harrison Dempsey, a Massachussetts native, while stilling of Georgia, first, and Schmeling second. Mr. McAdams signs second place in his list to Jack Sharkey, with respectful reference to lighter weight classes.

The human gondola from Venice, is a future champion of the world. You must understand that these ratings are but the personal opinions of two men, with Mr. McAdams perhaps the better qualified of the two as a voter.

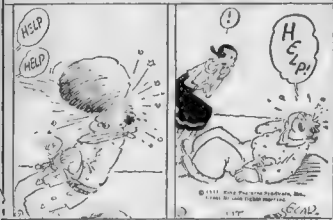

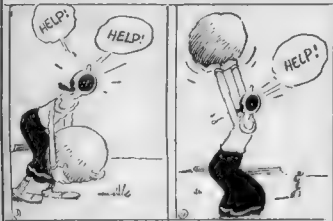

Mr. McAdams has seen more of the heavyweights than Mr. Dempsey, and as a consequence must be made for the fact that Mr. Dempsey is a born aerial companion of the Scribbles.

If memory serves, Mr. Dempsey has voyaged hither and yon to the good ship "King of the Case," a name that Willie Hurling borrowed for his same character
